

At SLEEP'N Atocha we believe that economic growth and the well-being of society are inextricably linked to the health of the environment.

Consequently, we are committed to minimizing the negative impacts of all our hotel activities that are generated on the environment.

We actively work on continuous environmental improvement practices aimed at:

- Comply with local, national and international environmental legislation.
- Integrate the best environmental practices on a daily basis that promote the responsible use of energy and water minimize energy losses, water pollution and waste.
- Installation of efficient technology when it is necessary to replace the old one.
- Incorporate a waste management program to mitigate waste production following this hierarchy: avoid, reduce, reuse and recycle.
- Control, reduce and offset our carbon footprint.
- Apply our product and service purchase policy at all times.

We create awareness and inspiration for the personal and professional life of our clients, employees and collaborators:

- Internal communication, delegation and education. All team members are encouraged to work in a manner environmentally responsible. They are given a copy of the environmental policy, offered to represent to their department in the Green Team and receive continuous training to improve their daily practices.
- External communication, contribution and education. Customers, suppliers, authorities, local community are invited and business partners to be part of our environmental program. We let you know what we are doing, why we are doing it and how you can be a part of it. And they are given the option of contributing to the reforestation of Madrid.

We work through the commitment of:

- Establish objectives in the consumption of energy and water, waste management and in our purchasing policy communicate these goals periodically to stakeholders.
- Monthly analyze the achievements and compare them with the objectives.
- Document and report on our environmental management.

The SLEEP'N Atocha Management is responsible for complying with this policy, signing it, reviewing it every year and encouraging the support and participation of the team, clients and other stakeholders to achieve their commitment.
